Comfort and Clarity, combined with the ability to perform under the most severe conditions.

The K99 was the choice of the US Navy Seals because of its unsurpassed audio clarity and ruggedness in a package that survives and excels in the toughest environments. The K99 is tough enough to handle any situation from Hazmat, active combat, fire and water rescue.

It performs well in all weather conditions or noise environments and has a large, watertight PTT enclosure that's easy to access even with gloves or while holding a firearm. The microphone element is sensitive enough to conduct even whisper communications clearly so it's perfect for SWAT, ATF or other tactical settings. And, because of its unique throat-worn design it is ideal for use with a respirator, helmet or personal protective equipment. Multiple receive audio and remote PTT switches are also available upon request.
