

FX Series

Our FX Series of presses have manual operated foot presses, designed to use the same cast iron linkage as our original X PRESS. Heavy duty frame construction and self lubricating bearings assure many years of useful life. The FX Series will accommodate most types of heads and bucks. There have been some recent attempts to copy the FX but none have been able to match the proven performance and longevity of the FX which has been the industry standard for nearly 100 years.
