

System Remote Control – SR-H 5J Control4® Suite Systems

From turning off the lights and turning up the heat, to changing the channel or closing the drapes, guests can easily customize and manage their guestroom experience with the Control4® Remote Control.

The Control4® System Remote Control is an intuitive, highly functional way for guests and management to control automated guestrooms. Ideal for new construction and for existing properties, the SR-150 is easy to use and allows control of all room functions – temperature, audio, video, lighting and services – with the touch of a button.

Your guests will be able to easily control the automated functions in their room using the remote control and the television interface. They can even use the remote to draw the blinds, request guest services or create a personal wakeup scene.

Control4® System Remote Controls give your property the ability to deliver an unprecedented guestroom automation experience that focuses on comfort and convenience. At the same time, your property enjoys complete control of lighting, temperature and other in-room functions, allowing you to maximize energy efficiencies and reduce demands on staff.
