A CLOSER LOOK AT EXOTIC FUSION™

BIRCH | Cypress Grove
EEF5301

Nature has always been a source of inspiration. But now, the desire to preserve and protect our natural resources has inspired a whole new world of innovative design. Exotic Fusion is one such innovation, fulfilling the desire to create new and exciting hardwood designs without depleting the world's rarest and most beautiful tropical forests.

BIRCH | Cypress Grove

Exotic hardwood species are prized for their unique character; striking grain patterns and depth of natural color. To capture this look, Armstrong began with four abundant domestic species known for their exceptional graining: maple, mountain elm, ash and birch. Individual boards are selected with special attention to the character of the grain. A special thermal treatment process caramelizes the wood, producing rich colors and distinctive grain effects remarkably similar to exotic woods.

The time and temperature are precisely controlled for each species, as a range of extraordinary shades and effects can be achieved simply by adjusting these variables. No stains are necessary. The thermal process colors the entire plank. The smooth surface and dramatic details of Exotic Fusion™ are at home in a wide range of settings, from transitional to contemporary to global designs. It's the perfect choice for anyone who demands the new and exciting, but wants to do so responsibly.

A CLOSER LOOK AT BARREL CREEK™

SBC2100

It began in the rolling hills of Napa Valley.

At the intersection of wine country and ecological ingenuity, interior designers found a new way to reuse wine barrels. The reclaimed oak became furniture, home accessories, and truly unique hardwood floors. The look is a strikingly original interpretation of vintage style.

SBC2100

Armstrong was inspired by this extraordinary style and have made it more widely available. We begin with solid 2-1/4" strips of premium rift and quartered oak – the same material coopers use to make fine wine barrels. We have painstakingly reconstructed every detail of the original barrel floors, complete with Vintner's marks burned into random strips and authentic cooperage stamps. We apply a deep color wash to enhance the grain and give the wood an aged appearance.

This interplay between color and texture make Barrel Creek™ a three-dimensional sensory experience. Finally, the floor receives our highest quality urethane finish to protect its unique look. Whether you are a wine aficionado, a vintage design enthusiast, or just love truly original home décor, Barrel Creek is a unique way to bring a touch of wine country ambiance into your home.
