4100 Series

This state-of-the-art headset is a perfect choice for accessing digital curriculum delivered via high-density bandwidth in a blended learning environment. As more schools upgrade their Wi-Fi networks to support digital delivery and secure online testing, they will find this headset a perfect choice for their students. Particularly useful with ESL/ELL language practice, students can create podcasts or digital recordings of their progress as well as use them in computer multimedia labs or for classroom-based tutorials. This is a great tool to use when personalizing learning for your students.
