Our Green Commitment

We've put green thinking behind our shingles and environmentally sound manufacturing ahead of standard industry practices to produce a product line that is green and growing.

CertainTeed is committed to resource conservation. Our roofing manufacturing facilities recycle close to 90% of the production waste into asphalt materials used for the construction of roads.

We also integrate recycled content into many of our packaging needs including corrugated rolls and kraft paper.

They're small steps in a big world.
But we're green and growing everyday.
It's a commitment we take seriously at CertainTeed.

Why homeowners prefer the look of Cedar Crest

Raised Profile

The thicker, richer appearance accentuates the roof lines making for a more attractive finished look.

Multi Layer Design

Provides extra protection at critical stress points on the roof.

Blended Color Technology

Many competing accessory products provide a simple, bland color tone. Cedar Crest accessory shingles have distinctive granule blends on the surface designed to complement the roof shingles.

Superior Sealant Performance

An aggressive adhesive strip forms a strong bond to protect against rain and wind damage.

Looks aren't the only thing that set Cedar Crest apart

This accessory is engineered to provide excellent durability and protection against harsh weather. In fact, Cedar Crest meets the highest roofing industry standards for resistance to:

Algae: Protects against stains caused by algae.

Fire: Certified to meet UL 790 Class A, (ASTM E108 Class A) standards and ASTM D3018 Type 1.

Wind: UL certified to meet ASTM D3161 Class F standards. UL 997 wind resistance.

Tear: UL certified to meet ASTM D3462. CSA standard A123.5-98 (&-05).
