With its stylish elegance and polished impression, natural elements luxury vinyl stone tile combines commercial-grade resilient vinyl flooring with the timeless beauty of one of nature's most appreciated materials. Our ceramic bead enhanced urethane coating with NanoSilver technology contains a unique anti-microbial agent to fight germs that can collect on the flooring surface, such as Staph and E-Coli. This anti-bacterial technology inhibits the growth of microbes and their proliferation and metabolism. Easy to install and maintain, natural elements luxury vinyl stone tile offers an attractive selection for durability and performance where the splendor of stone adds just the right touch.
