Because

members shed more than others.

Live happier and healthier with an AirVac™ central vacuuming system.

Now your pets can improve the quality of your life with less impact on the cleanliness of your home. The AirVac™ system out-cleans conventional vacuums by as much as three to one. Even an older home can be a healthy, comfortable environment for the whole family.

Even better, AirVac saves you effort when you clean. The central power unit is located in an out-of-the-way place (like garage, basement or utility room), so all you carry is the hose.

You clean faster. Better. More easily. That's a promise.

More power

lets you put a leash on hair and dander.

Particles too small to see can play havoc with allergies. That's why AirVac packs enough power to pick up even the most microscopic particles, including pet hair and dander, dust mites and their droppings, mold, pollen and bacteria.

Now, even if you have multiple pets, you can keep up with every surface in your home – rugs, carpeting and bare floors, upholstery, blinds, drapes, ceiling fans and vents. Even bedding.

Quiet operation

keeps the peace.

Because the central power unit is located away from the living area of your home, AirVac is amazingly quiet to operate. You get better results with less noise. Great news for family members with sensitive ears.

Less effort, too. No need to haul a heavy vacuum cleaner from room to room or up and down stairs. Just plug the hose into one of the wall inlet valves and you've got unequalled cleaning power at your command.

Hassle-free installation for the easiest home improvement you'll ever make.

There's an AirVac system that's right for your home, no matter how old your house or how many square feet it is. The air quality specialists at an AirVac local dealer can have a new central vacuum system installed in just a few days (for most installations).

AirVac has been designing central vacuuming systems for over 50 years. There's an installation professional near you. You can expect an efficient and quality job, with minimal disruption.

This investment in your family's well-being can pay off in real dollars, too. Like any other worthwhile home improvement, your AirVac system adds to the resale value of your home.

AirVac means cleaner.

Cleaner means healthier.

Installing an AirVac means easier, more efficient cleaning throughout your home.

AirVac is a high-efficiency system, maintaining a high air flow level, even as dirt collects in the canister, and it uses a self-cleaning filtration system that requires low maintenance.

That means years of hassle-free cleaning. No mess, no heavy vacuum cleaner to drag through the house, leaking dust and dander.

You get a cleaner house with less effort, and it's all backed by the AirVac warranty.

Stop recycling!

Traditional vacuum cleaners release allergen particles back into your home.

Ever notice how housecleaning can set you sneezing? That's because traditional vacuums rely on onboard filters to trap particles and keep them in the vacuum cleaner. Even the most efficient filters allow some particles to escape back into the air.

That means traditional vacuums stir up dust, then leave it behind for you to breathe. Even HEPA-filtered machines can't trap it all.

But with AirVac, particles don't get the chance to escape back into the air – they're banished from your home's living area to the central power unit. Even emptying the unit won't release dust in the house.
