

CALCULATORS

FULL LINE OF TEXAS INSTRUMENTS, CASIO, AND SHARP CALCULATORS

Texas Instruments Scientific Calculator Model TI-30Xa

10 + 2 digit display, one variable statistic, three memories, fractions and fraction / decimal conversions, trigonometric functions in degrees, radians, grads and hyperbolics, common and natural logarithms, universal powers and roots, reciprocals and factorials, polar / rectangular conversions, degrees, minutes, seconds, seconds / decimal degrees, conversions. Automatic power down. Durable slide case.

Texas Instruments Scientific Calculator Model TI-30X IIS Solar / Battery

Two-line display scientific calculator combines statistics and advanced scientific functions and is a durable and affordable calculator. The two-line display helps students explore math and science concepts in the class room. Automatic power down (APD™). Lithium battery included. Protective slide case.

Sharp Scientific Calculator Solar/Battery Model EL-506V

New ergonomic design advanced scientific calculator. 2-line, 12-digit display, D.A.L. - Direct Algebraic Logic, multi-line playback, calculus memory and physical constants. hard case included.

Texas Instruments Solar Scientific Model TI-36X SLR

Advanced scientific calculator, 10 + 2 digit display, ideal for use in advanced algebra, trigonometry, geometry, computer science, chemistry, engineering, physics, calculus and statistics. ANYLITE™ solar power. Protective slide case.

Casio Student Scientific Model FX-250HAS

10 digit display with 12 digit accuracy, one variable statistic, random number generator, trigonometry functions, impact resistant slide-on case with quick reference card, fraction to decimal to mixed numeral to improper fraction toggle.

Casio Scientific Calculator Solar/Battery Model FX-115MS Plus

New advanced design with 2-line, 12-digit LCD display. Visually perfect algebraic method 1 and 2, variable statistics, boolean logic and number bases. Preprogrammed scientific constants. Complex number calculations. Snap-on hard case included.
